THAT "DEADHEAD" CANAPAD.

The Slanderers Nailed to the Dec . Nobody "on the Make," but the Tich ets All Paid For-Who Blu adered !

There has been conside rable talk for the last three days over what was announced as an attempt by President Grant and party to "deadhead it" over the Hudson River, Railroad on their way to attend the obsequies of deneral Thomas at Troy. A meaner or more scurr dous report could not have been in vented. To e facts of the case are as follows:-

On Wed nesday of last week Superintendent J. M. Touccy, of the Hudson River Railroad, received an official telegram from Washington saying that the President and Cabinet and committees from both Mouses of Congress would reach New York city at a late hour Thursday night en route to Troy, and reting that the Montreal train which leaves New York at 11 P. M. might be held till they arrived, in on it. Mr. Toucey instructed the train to wait as was desired. The distinguished party arrived at Thirtieth street nearly half an hour late, and at once had a sleeping car assigned them, into which they entered and retired, leaving an aid-ec-amp, Colonel Jones, in charge. Soon after leaving the city Harry Stevens, conductor of the train, applied to the aid-ec-amp for the tickets for the party, but was informed they had hone; that there was undonbtedly

Amsundently

Thus matters rested till the train reached Pough-keepsic at incre o'clock in the morning, when conductor Stevens and one or two ohers entered the telegraph office for the purpose of sending a despatch to Superintendent Toucey, who resided at Pough-keepsic, for instructions. The despatch was sent by a messenger. In the meantume considerable talk occurred in the telegraph office relative to the matter, a sleeping car conductor urging Stevens to cut the car off. This conversation was caught up by some person outside of the telegraph office, and in the alternoon edition of the Poughkeepsie Daily Press it was greatly mismiled, and by it President Grant and party were placed before the public in a humiliaring position.

Harry Stevens, the conductor, says that he did not state, hint, or in any way inclinate to the aid-decamp that he would cut the cader-camp that he camp that he would cur the CAR off, nor did he address the aid-de-camp in a discourteous or ungentlemanly manner. He states, further, that his train reached Poughkeepsie on time and left on time, and no member of the Presidential party was disturbed in any way, shape, or manner, but the afair was amicably and satisfactorily arranged throughout.

affair was amicably and satisfactority arranged throughout.

Samuel J. Farnum, who occupies a position in the Appraiser's office in this city, states that the Deputy Collector in New York or some person attached to his office had received instructions to PERCHASE THE TICKETS for the party, and that a boy was sent to perform that duty. In some way, however, "some one had blundered," and as soon as the matter was placed before President Grant he mimediately ordered everything paid. The attacks made upon the President and party are everywhere commented upon with severity, and no one regrets the occurrence more than Harry Stevens, the conductor, and it is but justice to that gentleman to so state. The instructions sent Mr. Stevens by Mr. Toncey were of a courteous character, and were, in effect to take the Presidential party to their destination.
